

Description of the Golf Course Meliá Sancti Petri

Designed by the Dutch architect Alan Rijk, the golf course is located on the coast of Chiclana, in a space of 80 hectares, approximately 5 minutes from the Hotel Meliá Sancti Petri and the beach. It is 6257 m long; PAR 72, 5935 metres for male and 4826 metres for female players, enclosed in a natural surrounding and the beauty of the typical Andalusian villages. The course is of medium difficulty and has a great amount of obstacles: two lakes, two small streams and protected natural resorts. The greens are located strategically; they are big and in great majority elevated, reaching a demanding technical level, which is a real challenge for the professional players but also appropriate for beginners.

The course owns a great ornithological and floral variety. Additionally to the native and autochthonous trees, which already had been there, ancient olive trees have been planted. It possesses a modern system of drainage, marble sand, etc. It is also important to mention the more than 3000 hours of sunlight during the year in this area as well as the peculiar characteristics of the air and the sea breeze.
